THE BRODIE FAMILY

WILLIAM BRODIE was born in Scotland in 1868 and died at Mt. Mee, Australia in 1914. William 1st father was also named William and William was the only child born of the marriage of his father William and his mother who was a Chapman. They lived in the village of Hopetown. His father remarried and had four more children: Jean, Nell, Hugh and George Brodie. Jean married Mr. Stoddard and their daughter, Jean England, is believed to reside in Sydney.

William spent most of earlier life in rural situations and at one time managed a farm on the Firth of the Forth, and later Muirhead farm near Bonnybridge. He was working Southdrum farm with his wife Elizabeth and children before migrating to Australia.

The early home of the Brodie Clan was Brodie House in the north of Scotland. It was believed that all family records were destroyed by fire in 1645 by Lord Lewis Gordon, but in the early 1970's renovations were being carried out at Brodie House and records were found in a partly demolished wall. Clan history's documented from the 1600's. In 1940 the chief of the Brodie Clan was Ian Brodie of 'Brodie', DSO, Lieutenant for Nairnshire. Other branches of the Clan are "Brodie of Lethen" and "Brodie of Eastbourne", Sussex.

THE WHITE FAMILY

ELIZABETH LIVINGSTONE-WHITE was born 1870 and died at Mt. Mee in 1942.

Elizabeth was one of eleven children born of her parents, James and Marion Nimmo WHITE. (Marion died 29.11.1909). James worked as a miner and lived with his family in 'Miners Row' Blackbraise via Falkirk.

The village of Blackbraise was demolished in the late 1940's and the people were re-located in Government built houses on a site two miles away. The new village is now called California.

Four of James and Marion's children migrated to Australia, Canada and New Zealand, the other six children settled near home where many of the great grandchildren and their families still live.

It is Scottish tradition for females to be given their Mothers' maiden name as their second Christian names and for children to be named after Aunts and Uncles. James and Marion had one daughter and nine granddaughters all christened Marion Nimmo and called "Minnie". Minnie Brown of Blackbraise and Minnie Webster of Glentunnel New Zealand are two of the granddaughters.

WILLIAM AND ELIZABETH BRODIE

William and Elizabeth were married on 25.11.1892 in the Blachbraes Church. Before migrating to Australia, they lived on Southdrum farm, Bonnybridge with their seven children. The older children attended the Green Hill School. The school still exists today just as it did seventy years ago.

Due to the hardships of the farming life in Scotland, the family decided to immigrate to Australia, had five children.

In 1911 the family sailed on the "Ophir" ship from Tilbery Docks and arrived at Pinkenba , Brisbane. The family lived at Kangaroo Point for a short time before moving to the Cost Grove Farm at Samford. They stayed for about one year, then moved to McCaullys farm, Neurum via Woodford.

The family moved back to Brisbane and lived at Bayview Street, Wooloowin, for two years. The younger children attended the Eagle Junction school. William drove a wagon, a fodder delivery service.

The older children found employment.

In 1913 the family moved by German wagon to Fernvale farm, Mt. Mee (more recently known as Pages farm). The farm was then owned by Doctor Robinson. William took sick and was transported to Brisbane where he died in 1914, and was buried in the South Brisbane cemetery.

Elizabeth and her youngest child John went to live at indooroopilly for a time before returning to Mt. Mee. The older children remained on Mt. Mee as most had married and settled there.

William, Elizabeth and their children, Margaret, William, Ann, James and Mary - Scotland 1902.
